

Code of Conduct

AYAC is dedicated to independent, lively debate about a Code of Ethics. We welcome your participation in this discussion, but we ask that you help us keep the conversation useful, interesting and welcoming.

AYAC reserves the sole right to review, edit and/or delete any comments it deems inappropriate. Such comments include:

- Abusive or inflammatory comments
- Comments that use inappropriate language or "hate speech" (for example, anything discriminatory based on race, ethnicity, sexuality, ability or gender)
- Personal attacks or defamatory statements or comments (i.e., making negative, personal or untrue comments about a participant)
- Comments that violate the privacy of any individual
- Comments that are posted for commercial purposes

In short, we ask that people 'play the ball not the man'.

Please help us to keep the conversation on topic by debating the issues.

By submitting content to any of AYAC's social media sites you understand and acknowledge that this information is available to the public, and that AYAC may use this information for internal and external promotional purposes.

Opinions expressed in comments published on the AYAC website should not in any way be interpreted as a reflection or endorsement of AYAC's organisational opinions.

We prefer not to have to edit or delete comments on our website, so please help us uphold the code of conduct so we don't have to.

IMPORTANT: We ask that when participating in this debate, you use a handle, not your real name. We reserve the right to remove any comments that do not abide by this request.
